Justice Involved Services

Inspirame

Inspirame, an equity-driven education technology company focused on helping end generational poverty through education and job training
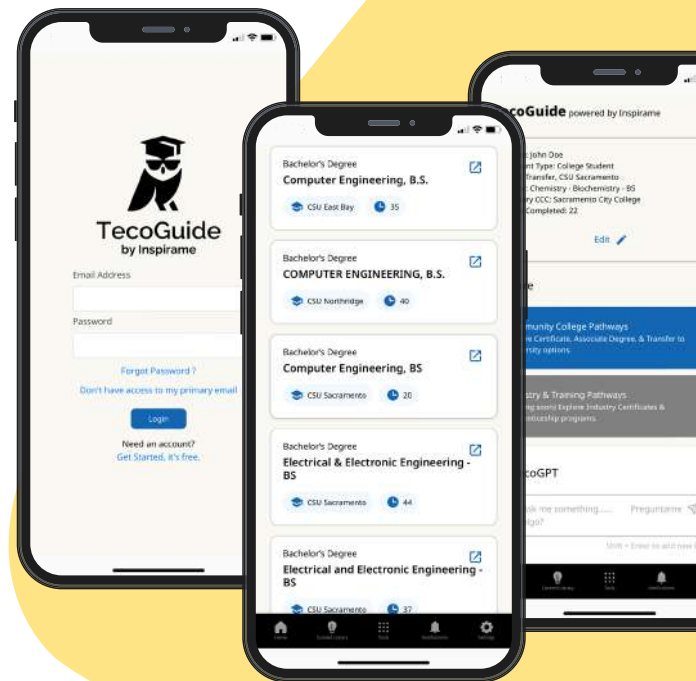

The Opportunity

Justice-involved individuals face significant obstacles to education and workforce reintegration, leading to cycles of unemployment, poverty, and recidivism.

The Solution : Meet TecoGuide

Inspirame's TecoGuide mobile app effectively tackles these challenges by granting access to affordable educational opportunities such as GED programs, vocational certificates, and associate degree, as well as employment training and resources. By guiding individuals through academic and career support, TecoGuide aims to reduce recidivism rates and unlock their potential for successful reintegration, contributing to a more equitable society.
